

Hartford Bridge Club Libraries

Hartford Bridge Club maintains a library of bridge books and a library of novels for the use of our members.

Members are welcome to borrow books from either library. The books don't need to be signed out, as we employ an honor system, but we do ask that you return books to the club within a reasonable period of time.

We also invite our members to donate and/or lend books to the club -- especially recently published bridge books in good condition. This will expand our libraries and provide more reading and learning opportunities for our members.
